Pricedropalert For Magento 2
Installation & Configuration

Magik Pricedropalert extension will take customers email address in the system and sends an email alert when the price of their favorite product goes down. Customer will receive latest price alerts of their subscribed products. Price drop extension will add a button image in the frontend on product details page. On click of this button a light box will open & will ask the customer to fill his email address where price drop alerts will be sent. After submitting email address, Price drop extension will keep track of the particular product's price and sends the email out when the price for chosen product ever goes down.
